Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-28 are presented for examination.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 7/16/2001 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Drawings

3. The drawings are objected to because figure 5, element 518 is "Get content" and the arrows are pointed towards the elements 510 and 512 which are Content source(s). It appears to be arrows are pointed in opposite direction, both arrows should be pointed toward element 518 "Get content". Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Examiner has pointed out some information to assist the applicant;
however, applicant is advised to review all figures and make appropriate correction as required.

Claim Objections

4. Claim 13 is objected to because of the following informalities:
Claim 13, includes terms "The method of claim 12" which is not appropriate because claim 12 is "A content server system....", while claim 13 is "The method..." claim.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 12-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted structural cooperative relationships are: the limitation(s) "A content server system for comprising:"; it appears to be missing some information and/or it is not clear to interpret the structural relationship between the limitations and specifically after the terms "system for...".

Dependent claims, which are not particularly rejected, are rejected based on the rejected base claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hutsch et al. (US 2001/0034771 A1).

As to claims 1, 5, 12, 14-16, 20 and 27-28, Hutsch teaches the invention including a method, a content server system and computer program in a data processing system for handling a request for content, the method, the system and computer program, comprising: a bus system, a communication unit connected to the bus system and a memory connected to the bus system wherein the memory includes as set of instructions (see, figures 1A-4 and pages 1-2, paragraphs [0017]-[0019]); a processing unit connected to the bus system the processing unit executes the set of instructions for receiving the request for content wherein the request contains a universal resource identifier (see, figure 1A and pages 1-2, paragraph [0018], lines 2-3); identifying a content source from a plurality of content sources using the request to form an identified content source (see, pages 1-2, paragraph [0018], lines 1-10); retrieving the content from the identified content source (see, figures 1A and 4 and page 2, paragraphs [0019]-[0022]); and applying a template to the content to generate a Web page, wherein the template is a template associated with the identified content source from the plurality of content sources (see, figures 1A-7 and page 2, paragraphs [0026]-[0028]).

As to claims 2 and 17, Hutsch teaches the method and the system further comprising: sending the Web page to a requester originating the request (see, figure 1A and page 2, paragraph [0028] lines 8-12).

As to claims 3, 11, 18 and 26, Hutsch teaches the method and the system wherein the Web page is a Java server page (see, figures 3A-6).

As to claims 4 and 19, Hutsch teaches the method and the system wherein template is a particular template associated with the identified content source and associated with a user originating the request (see, figure 1A and page 2, paragraphs [0019]-[0022]).

As to claims 6-10, 13 and 21-25, Hutsch teaches the method and the system further comprising: generating session information using information within the request wherein selecting step includes selecting the template using the session information in addition to the universal resource identifier wherein the obtaining step comprises: obtaining navigation information using the universal resource identifier; and creating a navigation object, wherein the retrieving step comprises: retrieving content from a particular content source from a plurality of content sources using the universal resource identifier; and creating a content object, wherein the generating step comprises: generating the Web page using the template, the navigation object, and content object (see, figures 1A-7 and page 2, paragraphs [0019]-[00228]).
